

Project was installed by Electrical Maintenance

Description:

One of the water tank in our college is provided with water level controller. It's water level is controlled by a water level controller and is maintained by electrical maintenance. This water tank does not require any of the manual intervention; the switching process of motor is monitored and controlled by sensors and relays.

